Key features and benefits

- The dv1000 launches the next-generation of HP QuickPlay 2.0⁽⁴⁾ which in addition to playing DVD or MP3s files in seconds, it now provides fulltime access to personal photo and video collections in seconds on a slick widescreen interface. Users can control the dv1000 from up to 10 feet away with the optional⁽³⁾ HP Remote which stores in the ExpressCard PC Card slot. A full Windows version of the HP QuickPlay application provides the same simple and intuitive media experience as in the QuickPlay mode.
- The integrated HP Pavilion WebCam and microphone make it possible for users to hold video-conversations with friends and family even when they are far away. Users can kick back and enjoy the crisp and clear 14.0-inch optional⁽³⁾ high-definition⁽²⁾ BrightView widescreen LCD display, offering as large a picture as standard 15.0-inch XGA displays (when viewing widescreen movies).
- Taking the show on the road is better than ever, thanks to the Intel® Centrino® Duo mobile technology⁽⁵⁾ that not only delivers the power you need to get mobile, but also maximizes the long-life battery⁽⁶⁾, so you can enjoy movies, music and photos—or complete multiple tasks—in any room of your home or on the go.

Additional Features:

- The dv1000 includes a 6-in-1 media card reader on some models⁽⁷⁾, ExpressCard/54 slot for next generation PC Card expansion products and up to three USB 2.0 ports on select models to support the latest in consumer devices, files and digital media.
- Optional⁽³⁾ HP Remote Control makes it easy to turn the notebook into an entertainment center. Control CDs and DVDs like any other media player; video toggle function to view content between notebook panel and external display devices.
- Easily connect notebook to peripherals via the expansion port for the HP xb2000 Notebook Expansion Base⁽³⁾ for a true desktop experience and HP xc2000 All-in-One Media Cable⁽³⁾ for a one-step connection and integration with home entertainment systems.
